VOL. XXVII — NO. 1

EDUCATION WITH A CHRISTIAN PURPOSE

FRIDAY, SEPT. 22, 1967

President's Address

By MARCIA BISHOP

It is always a thrilling experience to welcome to the campus a large freshman class such as we have this year. We have been impressed by the high quality and sincere Christian commitment of this new class. I wish for each of these new students success academically, spiritually and in every other way.

My welcome extends also to the great host of students returning to Olivet's campus. We trust that each of you had a successful and satisfactory summer. And now each of you is here to make this year the best ever.

We hope all of you will enjoy the new food plan that is being provided by the Saga Company. This company is desirous to serve Olivet Nazarene College, to serve Olivet's community, including students, parents, faculty, administrators and alumni.

We are thrilled with the exciting plans of the Associated Students in making Spiritual Outreach a vital force on the campus.

We know that each of you is appreciative of the splendid faculty which serve you. We believe that all of you will put forth your best for Olivet, then she will return to you her greatest.

My best wishes to every student.

Dr. Harold Reed, President

Spiritual Outreach

By JOE WISEHART

Monday evening, September 18, the Spiritual Outreach Committee met for its second full planning session with the largest membership in the short history of the program. Composing this year's committee are five program directors. They are Peg Ulmet of Gospel Crusaders, Vicki Vorce of Servants of Christ, Les Hough of Lay Witness, Carolyn Sechrist of SCOPE, and recently approved Mike Shank of Evangels, a fifth program this year. Three newly elected representatives at large also serve the committee this year in various capacities. Martha Mahaffey as secretary, Ann Phipps as Director of Development, and Jerry W. Frye as Director of Public Relations. Dr. John Cotner, Administrative Supervisor, Mrs. W. F. Hobbs, office secretary, John Seaman, Student Body President, and Joe Wisehart, chairman, complete the committee of twelve.

This year's Outreach Program will officially begin September 27-28, with the annual chapel presentation of programs and the registration of volunteers. Included in the training of all volunteers will be four hourly seminars on personal evangelism given by the Rev. Chuck Millhuff, Oct. 16-19. Also seminars on evangelistic services and personal etiquette will be given by the Rev. Paul Cunningham. All programs will be under full operation by October 20.

Looking Ahead

By JOHN SEAMAN,
President, Associated Students

This past Friday and Saturday, Sept. 15 and 16, the annual Student Administrative Workshop was held in Ludwig Center. At this workshop were presented various sessions of special emphasis: social, spiritual outreach, etc. The rather dubious honor of presenting myself in a speech fell to my lot. In preparing this speech, I once again faced the discouraging facts that as a writer I'm sadly lacking and as I sit here at my desk struggling over this short column, trying to beat a deadline, I am once again faced with the harsh reality that I'm short on the literary end of things.

If you'll permit me, I would like to tell you a few of my concerns and beliefs on the topic which I presented at the workshop, "Guidelines for a Successful Year." My sincere desire is that you overlook the obvious errors and the awkward form of this column that you look past it and grasp the challenge of this coming year and increase your intense desire for a greater service to Christ.

The report that was given presented the importance of being and of having respect "because all achievement is colored by what a person is." We as Christian young people need to be completely sincere in our stand for Christ. We must be leaders in a lawless world, courageous in our stand and knowledgeable in dealing with others.

We must be slow to judge those with whom we come in contact. Let us seek the good, the right, the true in everyone. When questions arise of another's character, let's be sure we know all background facts before committing any decision. This does not mean that we are blind to things that aren't right but let us be careful that we don't as Christians be peddlers of misinformation, misjudgement of even unknowingly of slander.

Most of all, may the Holy Spirit be our guide this year. May our lives be bolstered by our life habits and the ability for that it the Holy Spirit within. That can only result with a "constant communication" with Him. May we, from this day on, pray not only to glorify God, not only to pray for others, but to pray the words of the 19th Psalm, "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my redeemer."

The strength for the coming year, the clue to success is the power of prayer; it is amazing. Let us pray prayers of faith, expecting God to work and this will be—in every area—the finest year in the history of Olivet Nazarene College.

"The Marquis"

"The Marquis" will be the Social Committee's contribution to the student's social activities.

The bulletin board next to the information desk has been given to us to advertise social activities. Happenings on campus and off campus will be listed . . . times, dates and special events in Chicago.

A frame has been purchased, artistically decorated by Dave Stone, to enclose this information.

We hope that you will watch for "The Marquis" and take note of the social events offered to you as collegians.

New Faculty Members Named At ONC

By CONNIE JOHNSON
and SHARON ALGER

(Thomas) Milton Carpenter, interim instructor in physics, has a B. A. degree with majors in physics and mathematics from Friends University in Wichita, Kansas. He received his honors scholarship during each of his four under-graduate years, and received the Physics Achievement Award in his junior year. His graduate research in physics is being sponsored by NASA and he's completing the M. A. degree in physics at Oklahoma State University.

From Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, comes Kenneth (Leroy) Elkins to ONC as interim instructor in biology. Mr. Elkins holds a B. S. degree in biology from Bethany Nazarene College and is completing the M.S. degree in medical microbiology at the University of Oklahoma Medical Center. He has served as laboratory assistant in organic chemistry at Bethany Nazarene College and in microbiology at the University of Oklahoma. He is a member of the Missouri Valley Society of Microbiology.

Mr. Gerald E. Greenlee, a former Olivet student and voice instructor returns to campus as assistant professor of music. From 1944 to 1952 he worked as a professional soloist on Chicago radio stations, and has made several oratorio concert appearances in the Midwest. He has served in the Church of the Nazarene as minister of music at Chicago Northside Church, Olivet College Church, Midland Michigan First Church, and for the past three years at Denver, Colorado, Southside.

Assistant Professor of Nursing, Jewel Monroe, hails from Jackson, Michigan. She holds a B. S. degree in nursing from Michigan State University and an M. S. degree in nursing from Wayne State University. She served as instructor of nursing and staff nurse at the Mercy School of Nursing, Jackson, Michigan, and at W. A. Foote Memorial Hospital. Since 1963 she has held the rank of Instructor of Nursing at Michigan State University.

Ruth Foden, of Tallahassee, Florida, comes to Olivet as Instructor of Nursing. She received a B. S. degree in nursing from Florida State College and is completing an M. S. degree in nursing at the University of Maryland. She taught nursing for three years at Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami and for one year at Dade County Junior College.

Mr. Wilmer E. Eigsti is Olivet's taxidermist and educational materials specialist in zoology. His professional experience includes work as taxidermist and specialist in zoological exhibits at the Field Museum in Chicago from 1931 to 1946. He comes to ONC from Hastings, Nebraska, where he was director of the Hastings Museum.

Wanda (Sue) Harris comes to Olivet from Terre Haute, Indiana as an instructor in French. She has earned both the B. S. and M. A. degrees in French from Indiana State University. In the past year she served as graduate assistant in French.

Dr. Harry (Robert) Westfall, from Indianapolis, is Assistant Professor of Education. Having earned a B. A. degree in Social Studies, Dr. Westfall also has B. A., M. A. and Bachelor of Divinity degrees in Biblical Literature. He holds the M. S. and Doctor of Philosophy degrees in Education from Purdue University. Formerly, he was a teacher and assistant principal in the public schools of Indiana.

Dr. Billy F. Hobbs, also of Indianapolis, has returned to Olivet as Associate Professor of Mathematics. He earned the B. S. and M. A. degrees in mathematics at Ball State University. On leave of absence from Olivet since 1962, Dr. Hobbs was an Associate and later an Assistant Professor of Mathematics at Purdue University. While there he earned his Doctor of Philosophy degree in Mathematics.

Another Assistant Professor of Mathematics, David (Loren) Strawn, of Royal Oak, Michigan, received his B. A. degree in mathematics from Olivet Nazarene College in 1962. He earned the M.A. degree in mathematics at Wayne State University.

Thomas (Lowell) Riley, from Lafayette, Indiana, taught two years in high school, and is now Instructor in English at Olivet. He received a B. A. degree in education from Greenville College and an M.A. degree in education from Purdue University.

Coming from Dearborn, Michigan, (Robert) Barry May serves Olivet as Instructor in Physical Education. Having a B.A. degree in business administration with a minor in physical education, Mr. May earned the M. A. degree in Physical Education at the University of Maryland.

Robert (Wayne) Starcher graduated from Olivet Nazarene College in 1957 where he received the Olivet Senior Intra-mural Award. In the field of physical education he has the B.A. and Master of Education degrees. During 1964-67 Professor Starcher was teacher-coach in Illinois and Ohio high schools. He comes from Camden, Ohio.

St. Louis, Missouri, is the home of Max W. Reams, Assistant Professor of Geology and Physical Science. He has a B.A. in zoology, a B.S. in geology and a M.S. in geology. While teaching at Olivet, Professor Reams is completing work for the Ph.D. degree in geology

Pastor's Corner

By DR. FORREST W. NASH,
Pastor, College Church of the Nazarene

There is a two-fold test which anyone can make concerning his assets and advantages. The first is what am I doing with them and the second is what are they doing to me? The answer to the test depends on the aim of the individual. So when the student on this campus determines to realize God's purpose in his life he is able to discern the value of all the advantages which surround him.

It is when self-centeredness displaces this sense of divine purpose that one becomes blind to the real wealth of his environment. Prayer, Christian commitment, Christian fellowship, soul winning, etc., call for a way of life incompatible with the selfish heart. To retreat from these on Olivet's campus results in frustration, inner conflict, disillusionment and disappointment. There is too much at stake to be a loser; one need not succumb to this defeat. And the secret lies in my determination to seek the will of God. In a book the other day I read this barb of truth, "It doesn't really matter what a man says to himself if he is willing to listen to what God has to say."

Russia vs. China

A timely, informative lecture sponsored by the Social Committee will be held at Chalfant Hall on Saturday, September 23, at 8 p.m. Ralph Green will personally present his color film documentary, "Russia vs. China," conflict between the Russian bear and the Chinese dragon.

Raphael Green, an authority on Asian affairs, presents the dramatic story that lies behind the friction between Russia and China today. Few people outside of Asia are aware of the plunder of Manchuria by the Russians. There is at stake an area almost as large as the United States. Much of Siberia and Outer Mongolia represent lands which have long been considered by the Chinese as rightfully theirs. The continuing pressures of China's population impel the Communist government to look for release in all directions. Raphael Green points out that in a sense it is a case of the spreading empire of the Chinese dragon running squarely into the extensive empire presently in the pays of the Russian bear.

A special portion of his film is the remote and rarely photographed country of Outer Mongolia. With a heritage extending back to the days of Genghis Khan and his Golden Hordes, it is a region that includes not only the vast expanse of the Gobi Desert, but also rich grazing lands and tremendous mineral and other natural resources that have scarcely been explored. For some years there has been a subtle invasion from Red China, Chinese soldiers, in the guise of workers, wearing blue denim overalls, thus giving rise to the nickname of "blue ant," as the Mongolians call them. This glimpse into Outer Mongolia, previously sealed off country, is a unique experience.

Anchors Away

The weekend of September 29-30, the MRA is sponsoring their first annual canoe trip.

The trip will consist of 25 canoes and 50 fellows. The trip will start on Friday at approximately 5 p.m. when we will be leaving for Yorkville, Illinois, where the trip begins. The trip will be about 40-50 miles long, so you can see the boys will be pulling hard at the paddles. Saturday morning we will travel another 30-35 miles to end our trip at Wedron, Illinois.

Divisions Report Plans For '67-'68 School Year

By TED YOUNG

With the enrollment at Olivet reaching its highest numerical level in history the academic divisions have made plans to keep Olivet's students reaching higher intellectual levels as well. The Division of Education and Psychology is rushing full speed ahead to have its Masters program in operation by fall next year. The program will offer a Master of Arts degree in education with the primary emphasis being placed on elementary education. If the program is approved all indications are that it will be in operation by the first semester of the '68-'69 school year.

There will be approximately six visiting professors brought to our campus this year to lecture specifically in the area of "personality ills." These lectures will be in conjunction with the psychology courses but will be offered free of charge to anyone interested. Dr. Vernon Groves is in charge of this series of lectures and anyone desiring more information should contact him.

The Division of Languages and Literature reported that because of increased enrollment and crowded classroom conditions three new sections have been added over last year. Dr. Fordyce Bennett, department chairman, felt that the addition of these new sections was a distinct advantage over the previous arrangement.

On Friday, September 29, the Division of Religion and Philosophy will be conducting a Founder's Day Conference on the preparation of ministers. Six men will be dealing with six objectives: the minister as a man of God, the minister as a man of the Bible, the minister as a man with God's message, the minister as a man of the church, the minister as a man of the community, and the minister as a man of letters. Dr. Sayes is the chairman of the conference which will be held in either Chalfant Hall or College Church. All ministerial students should plan to be present.

Dr. Otho Jennings, Chairman of the Division of Social Sciences, was pleased to announce that the History Department has been granted a membership in the National Honor Society of the study of history. In order to qualify for the Phi Alpha Theta Society the history department had to be properly staffed and the charter and by-laws

Saga's Mr. Hamman

One of the newest additions to Olivet's campus this semester is the Saga Food Service. Mr. Bill Hamman is the director of the Saga program. He came to us from Wheaton College where he was the food manager for one year.

Mr. Hamman is a 1963 graduate of Western Illinois University and he holds a Bachelor of Arts in education from there. It was at Western Illinois that he became interested in food service, for here he was a student manager forty hours a week. That included a full load of classes, plus selling cosmetics, cooking in a hotel thirty hours a weekend and refereeing basketball games. Even with these duties he found Patricia, with whom he fell in love and married when he was a Junior.

Mr. Hamman's main desire is to serve the student body to the best of his ability. He has been very much impressed with Olivet because the sincere Christian attitudes displayed by the students. He also commented on the neat appearance of the students. He wants very much to become a part of Olivet's unique community. He likes the atmosphere here and he hopes to obtain a certain closeness with it. He wants to meet and get to know as many of the kids as he can. By sitting and talking with the students he feels he will learn their likes and dislikes, criticisms and compliments. To know that they are satisfied will make his job worthwhile.

Saga is a fine food service but it can only function properly with the help of each person who owns a meal pass. Mr. Hamman and Mr. Fridley, the food manager, are very careful and selective buyers. But the student must be careful in his selection too, that is take only what you can eat, then come back for more. However, student waste is increasing and is causing a very definite hardship on the "budget." In order to continue these meals the student must do his part.

Hamman said he was pleased to be on Olivet's campus. "I want to become fully entrenched in Olivet's philosophy and atmosphere. I want to know the kids so well they will feel free to come to me with any complaint or compliment," said Mr. Hamman.

had to be submitted to a national committee for approval. Charter members must have a B average or above and the society is open to history majors only.

Reflections on Sports

FOOTBALL—

Olivet's football practice attracted 60 men who tried out for the two teams. These teams are the Packers, coached by Coach Starcher, and the Saints, coached by Ron Craig, a recent graduate of Olivet.

The second game will be played September 26, the third game September 28 and the fourth game October 3.

All games will be played on Olivet's field.

SOFTBALL—

This year's softball season consists of thirty games for all the societies to participate. So far, six games have been played.

Coach May, Olivet's new intramural director, said by his observation of the first games, he feels the teams will be more evenly balanced this year. He also encourages more participation by all society members.

GOLF—

Coach May has organized fall tournaments in golf and tennis. These tournaments are part of Olivet's individual participation sports.

The golf tourney, to be held next week at the Elks Country Club in Kankakee, will consist of two 18-hole rounds. Eleven have entered the tournament; the bottom five will be cut for the final day's play. Low total scores for the two rounds will determine the winners.

TENNIS—

Nineteen have entered the tennis singles tournament which begins next week also. To make the tournament more interesting this year, the top four of five players will be seeded.

SWIMMING—

The new swimming hours for men are: 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, and 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

The new swimming hours for women are: 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

BASKETBALL—

First basketball practice will be held Oct. 4 at 3:45 p.m. in the gym. All interested players should attend.
